

The smarter data collection service for all your utility meters

eliminate estimated bills

reduce administration costs

cut energy waste

reduce CO₂ emissions

procure energy at lower rates

From meter to bill

You manage the energy...

Clarity is an automatic meter reading and data collection service that's available for all utilities: both main and sub-meters, both half hourly and non half hourly. We send the billing data direct to your suppliers and provide you with the half hourly consumption data for you to use in your own aM&T programme.

Clarity for half hourly metered electricity supplies

We became an accredited half hourly data collector in October 2002, and since then, Clarity has consistently been the UK's top-performing HHDC. In fact, we deliver more complete data for more meters - on time - than any other HHDC. That's because we're proactive in working with your meter operator to minimise meter down-time and keep the data flowing. All this means you receive accurate monthly bills based on actual consumption - Clarity eliminates estimation in half hourly billing.

Clarity for non half hourly and sub-metered electricity, gas and water supplies

We have now introduced innovative meter reading solutions to bring the same levels of performance we offer in the half hourly electricity market to all your non half-hourly electricity, gas and water supplies.

Clarity is an Elexon accredited Half Hourly Data Collector & Data Aggregator, an Elexon registered Non Half Hourly Data Retriever and an OFGEM registered gas meter reader.

“Clarity is definitely an improved service provider for us – the customer. The quality of their data is excellent and by 9.30 every morning we receive Day +1 profile data for all our sites. Getting the figures so early means that we can check for correct consumption and re-affirm, if necessary, the load management requirements for our major sites, in time for the next high cost tariff period”

Alan Burgess, Energy Manager, South West Water

Why switch to Clarity?

There are five main ways you will benefit when your non half hourly electricity, gas and water meters are read by Clarity:

- No more estimated bills - so no more supplier overcharges/undercharges
- Reduced accounting and administration costs - you'll spend far less time checking and approving bills for payment
- Accurate closing and opening reads - makes it much easier to change supplier
- Energy waste is eliminated - using Clarity's day+1 half hourly data you can implement a proactive aM&T programme
- You can adopt 'time of use' tariffs and validate your NHH profile class - to procure energy at lower rates

How to switch to Clarity

Simply nominate Clarity as your preferred partner and request that your utility supplier switches to us. It's that simple.

Affordable AMR

By significantly lowering both capital and operating costs, we have transformed the business case for adopting automatic meter reading for all non half hourly utility supplies.

Through the combination of innovative design and low-cost, two-way communications (SMS text messaging), our range of smartMetering products makes automatic meter reading affordable to organisations of all sizes, as well as domestic consumers.

The range of smartMetering products we offer include the Iskraemeco MT372 single phase and the MT375 three phase electricity meters; the P2G Zone 0 approved gas logger; and the P2W IP68 rated water logger. See our smartMetering products brochure to find out more.

SavenergyOnline - aM&T internet service

SavenergyOnline is Stark's internet service which gives you access to all the half hourly utility data collected by Clarity. Uniquely, it allows you to run detailed reports by both single and multi utility, showing you the total picture of all your energy usage. A key feature is automatic exception reporting. This reduces information to the essential and avoids data overload.

As well as closely monitoring all your utility consumption, SavenergyOnline can be used for secondary metering applications, such as tenant billing and cost centre accounting. See our SavenergyOnline brochure to find out more.

25 years of innovation

With over 25 years' experience in delivering leading-edge energy information systems, Stark is the UK's leading provider of aM&T and M&T products and services. With such a depth of knowledge and breadth of experience, we continue to help organisations of all sizes eliminate energy waste and meet their CO2 commitments.

Clarity
Powered by Stark
Sentinel House
10-12 Massetts Road
Horley, Surrey RH6 7DE
Tel: +44 (0) 1293 776747
Fax: +44 (0) 1293 820361
E-mail: office@stark.co.uk
Web: www.stark.co.uk